

2ND REVOLUTION FOR GEN. MORGAN

Winchester, Va., Aug. 6 (AP)—If the general were alive today, he might think he was in the midst of another revolution.

Gen. Daniel Morgan, hero of the American Revolution, has been dead for 140 years. But a couple of southern towns are about to start another Civil War over his body.

It was about a month ago that the Winchester Lions club received a letter from the Lions club of Cowpens, S. C. The South Carolinians wanted to transfer the body of Gen. Morgan from Mt. Hebron cemetery here to Cowpens, where the general won his fame.

The local Lions said, "sorry," it wasn't their affair. They referred the matter to the Winchester-Piedmont County Historical society. Nothing more was heard of the idea—until yesterday.

Without warning, a Cowpens undertaker and two assistants arrived at Mt. Hebron cemetery and informed Superintendent Oscar Harry they'd come to get Gen. Morgan's body and monument.

The unidentified undertaker presented credentials from a descendant of General Morgan in Redwood City, Calif. They authorized removal of the body to South Carolina. There also was a letter from the mayor of Cowpens authorizing the transfer. But Harry wasn't impressed. No court order, no body.

Equally unimpressed were members of the local historical society. They sent two men to the cemetery to see that nothing happened. If the good citizens of Cowpens want Gen. Morgan's body badly enough, let them take the matter to court, said the society.

Say Storekeeper's Tip Caused Death

Washington, Aug. 6 (AP)—Nine days ago, Samuel Copperman reported to police he had been robbed of $2,800 in his Washington liquor store.

Police checked the report, found it false and fined him $100.

Police said today the liquor store owner literally "signed his own death warrant" by advertising the fact that he had so much money around.

STOCKS WAVER

New York, Aug. 6 (AP)—Prices wavered today in the stock market without developing any concerted direction. But there was plenty of localized activity. There were some outstanding performers in the chemical section, too, but elsewhere prices moved narrowly in a mixed pattern.

Harrisburg, Aug. 6 (AP)—The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission is experimenting with electrical block signals to make the speed limit on the famed toll road conform with traffic and weather conditions. The commission said two of the new type signals are being tested near the Harrisburg-east and Harrisburg-west interchanges.

"They would permit us to regulate the speed limit at any spot on the turnpike according to weather and traffic conditions," a spokesman said. "However, we're not sure yet whether they are the answer."

POSSIBILITY OF BLAIK QUITTING BEING DEBATED

West Point, N. Y., Aug. 6 (AP)—The question whether Col. Earl (Red) Blaik will resign as Army's head football coach was tossed about in sports circles today as the result of the order dismissing 90 cadets—many of them his top gridiron stars—for cheating in examinations.

The Army steadfastly has refused to name names. But well founded reports said 40 or more football players were among the 90 involved in the scandal that rocked the United States military academy.

However, two of the players who figured prominently in Blaik's plans for another great Army team have said they are among the cadets ordered dismissed.

Squad Ripped Apart
Three others have disclosed through their parents that they were not connected with the violation of the academy's sacrosanct honor code.

But, if reports are true, Blaik's varsity squad has been ripped asunder. Graduation last spring took 10 of the team that rolled through 28 straight victories before losing to Navy 14-2 last fall. And now the dismissal order, taking players that figured again to make the Black Knights the feared power of the gridiron.

Blaik had built his offense around his son, Bob, No. 1 quarterback last season. Young Blaik himself has refused to say if he was involved. But speaking in a group of cadets he used the pronoun "we" in declaring: "We were not allowed to notify our parents all over the country."

Schedule Stands
James B. Leer, West Point public information officer, has said that Army definitely will keep its nine-game schedule, featuring Southern California in New York November 3 and the annual Navy game in Philadelphia December 1.

Definitely out of Blaik's plans are Captain-elect Harold J. Loehlein, a guard from Kimball, Minn., and Gilbert M. Reich, defensive back from Steelton, Pa.

Reich was quoted by the Harrisburg, Pa., Sunday-Patriot-News as saying: "I am involved. My conscience is clear."

Strader, former player and coach at St. Mary's (Calif.), has directed the Yanks since 1946.

He said he was contacted by Ted Collins, owner of the football team, last Wednesday by telephone and asked to sign a statement of resignation.

He said no reason was given for his release. His team won seven games and lost five last season.

Saturday's Results
Green Springs, 12; Hunterstown, 11 (12 innings).

Green Springs came from behind to tie up the one game in the South Penn league and then, in the 12th inning forged ahead to win a place in the league championship play-off and place Hunterstown in a tie for second place in the loop standings.

The game, played at Green Springs, was the last regularly scheduled game of the season. A postponed tilt, it had been held over from June and was played-off Saturday to determine just which teams would be in a tie at the end of the regular schedule of play.

As a result of Saturday's game, Hunterstown will face Granite next Sunday to determine the second place holder. The title play-off, between the first four teams, will begin Sunday, August 19.

All-Star Tilt
Hunterstown looked like a sure winner going into the ninth inning of that game. At that time the Green Springs squad rallied to score seven runs and change a 9 to 4 lead for Hunterstown into an 11 to 9 lead for Green Springs. Hunterstown came back in its half of the ninth to tie the score at 11 to 11. Three extra innings later Green Springs added its next run to win the ball game.

In an All-Star game played Sunday at Brushtown the Gettysburg-Bonneauville-Granite-Greenmount team won, 10 to 9 over a team made up of top players from the Barlow, Brushtown, Green Springs, Hunterstown squads.

The victors scored five runs early in the game to take a lead that was never relinquished. The losers scored one run early in the game, added four more in the eighth and four in the ninth. The contest was played to raise funds for players injured during the regular season.

Local Moose Win Saturday Contest

The Gettysburg Moose defeated the Mechanicsburg Naval Depot softball team 9 to 4 in a game under the lights at Recreation park Saturday night.

Three runs each in the seventh and fifth and one run each in the first, third and fourth innings gave the Moose their total. The visitors scored all of their runs in the fifth.

INDIANS GIVEN EVEN CHANCE FOR PENNANT

By JOE REICHLER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Two weeks ago you wouldn't have given a nickel for Cleveland's pennant chances. That was when the Indians, opening a vital eastern swing, dropped two straight games to the Yankees and fell 2 1/2 games behind the league-leading New Yorkers.

But today the triumphant Tribesmen rate even money to dethrone the defending champion Yankees.

True, the homeward bound Indians still trail the New Yorkers. But the margin is now a mere half game.

Tigers Take Pair

The Tribe swept the four-game series with the Philadelphia Athletics, closing with a pair of 6-3 triumphs yesterday to make it 11 consecutive wins against the A's. They go home with a 10-4 record in the east.

In sharp contrast, the Boston Red Sox suffered a wretched home stand, for them. They divided 14 games to fall into third place, 3 1/2 behind the Yankees. New York, Cleveland, and Boston began the latest swing in a virtual first-place tie.

Detroit's Tigers put the finishing touches to the Red Sox' sorry home stay by winning a double header in Fenway Park, 3-1 and 8-5. That cost Boston two full games, as the Yankees whipped the St. Louis Browns, 6-2 and 4-3.

Poor Trip For Chisox

Chicago's fourth-place White Sox ended a poor eastern jaunt with a 6-5 victory in Washington. They returned to the west with a 5-7 showing that cost them 4 1/2 games to the league leaders. Trailing by only 2 1/2 games two weeks ago, they now are seven games behind the Yanks.

The Brooklyn Dodgers continue to roll in the National league. They socked the Cincinnati Reds twice, 9-8 and 2-0, to increase their margin over the runner-up New York Giants to 9 1/2 games. The Giants captured the rubber of their three-game set in St. Louis, 8-4.

Philadelphia's third-place Phils pummeled nine Pittsburgh pitchers for a 5-1 and 12-7 sweep of their twin bill. Boston's Braves whipped the Cubs twice in Chicago, 7-4 and 4-3.

Three For Kiner

Ralph Kiner of the Pirates hammered three home runs to raise his total to 31. It tied him with Brooklyn's Gil Hodges for the major league lead. Kiner's first homer came in the seventh inning of the opener and ruined Bubba Church's bid for a no-hitter. It was the only hit off the Philly right-hander who notched his 12th victory. A seven-run eighth inning won the game for the Phils.

Roy Campanella swatted two four-baggers for Brooklyn in the opener, his second coming in the sixth with the bases loaded. The Reds tallied five times in the ninth and had the bases loaded with nobody out, but couldn't bring over the tying run. Ralph Branca shut them out on eight hits in the night-cap.

Sports Roundup

By JOE FALLS

New York, Aug. 6 (AP)—The hardest job in the world? . . . If you go by baseball standards, managing a big league team rates as just about the toughest task. . . . Consider all the recent changes. . . . There have been no fewer than seven shakeups since the close of last season, the new pilots being Paul Richards, Jimmy Dykes, Al Lopez, Charlie Dressen, Tommy Holmes, Phil Cavarretta and Marty Marion. . . . And Billy Meyer of the Pirates and Zach Taylor of the Browns are almost sure to go when the current season ends. . . . The reason for all this? . . . The only one we think of is that baseball, in general, is not up to pre-war standards and, consequently, heads must roll—the manager's heads!

HOW'S THAT AGAIN?

A recent baseball dispatch (the source will remain unnamed for obvious reasons) went like this: "The Blue Sox tonight came from behind to defeat the Gold Sox, 1 to 0." . . . Quite a trick!

BITS O' BOXING

Down Miami way they're talking about having a Jersey Joe Walcott-Ezzard Charles title bout there this winter, possibly in the huge Orange Bowl. . . . Last week somebody suggested that Congress hold an investigation into boxing, just like the one that's going on now with baseball. . . . If the boys in Washington do decide to have a hearing on the fight game, one of the first things they might look into is the "Archie Moore situation." . . . In its last two ratings, the NBA has listed Moore, a St. Louis cutie, as the No. 1 contender for Joe Maxim's light-heavyweight crown. . . . So who does Maxim fight for the title? . . . Bob Murphy, the No. 3 man. . . . But Moore is used to this treatment; it's been going on for years.

May Reduce Field

The complexity of these problems has caused the 16 major league owners to go slow on choosing a man to replace Chandler. There is a possibility the election will occur tomorrow at their meeting here, but it is much more likely that the field will be cut down to a half dozen and then an intensive scrutiny of each candidate will start.

The "Big Five" considered to have the inside track for the commission-ship are: General Douglas MacArthur, James A. Farley, Ford Frick, Warren Giles, and George Trautman. Not one of these has indicated he is interested in or seeking the job, yet these same names crop up in all conversations with baseball leaders.

A confidential pool of the major league club owners made the Associated Press showed strong sentiment for deferring any positive action tomorrow, and concentrating instead of narrowing down the choice.

Richardson Asks Vote On New Rain-out Rule

Williamsport, Pa., Aug. 6 (AP)—Thomas H. Richardson, Eastern league president, today asked the teams in his circuit to vote on a rule that would permit games halted by rain to continue from the point where they were stopped.

If this rule is passed it will eliminate the home club not getting a chance to bat if the visitors are ahead when rain comes.

A good example, he said, was the New York Yankees-Chicago White Sox game of July 27. Chicago was batting in the top of the ninth and was ahead, 4-3, when the game was called. The score reverted to the end of the eighth and New York won, 3-1.

If the Eastern league votes to play until a game is completed, Richardson believes a good amount of "stalling" will be eliminated.

Family Honors Crosby Hartzell

Crosby Hartzell, Gettysburg, was renamed president of the Jeremiah T. Hartzell clan at the second annual reunion Sunday at Caledonia park. Other officers reelected were: Ross Sachs, treasurer, and Mahlon P. Hartzell, Jr., secretary. The group decided to hold the 1952 reunion at the same place on the first Sunday of August. Between a picnic dinner and supper, the members of the group played games.

Softball Series Tilts On Tonight

The teams to take part in the final playoffs for the Gettysburg Softball league championship will be decided this evening at Recreation park when the third and final games in the semi-final eliminations will be played.

The games tonight will open at 7:30 o'clock with Stanton Legion and Texas Lunch meeting at that hour. Their game will be followed by the contest between Glenn L. Bream garage and the Moose, beginning at approximately 9 o'clock.

BIG PROBLEMS AWAITING NEW BASEBALL CZAR

New York, Aug. 6 (AP)—It is uncertain that baseball will elect a new commissioner tomorrow, but one thing is certain—if and when he is elected he will face the biggest problem ever confronted by a baseball czar.

The man who succeeds A. B. Chandler must among other things: 1—Represent baseball in the congressional investigation of the game now under way in Washington.

2—Decide what, if anything, can be done about the reserve clause, already under legal attack.

3—Attempt to work out a television and radio policy that will satisfy the minor leagues where attendance has fallen sharply.

4—Deal with the problem raised strongly in the Washington hearings of making the Pacific Coast league a third major league.

Church Consecration — The consecration of the Catholic church at Conowago will take place on Friday the 15th of August inst. The ceremony will be performed by Dr. Kenrick, bishop of Philadelphia, and a sermon suitable to the occasion delivered by Rev. John McCaffrey, D.D., president of Mt. St. Mary's college. The ceremonies will commence at 8 o'clock a.m.

Married: On the 5th inst., by the Rev. B. Keller, Peter Hiltbrich to Miss Anna Catharine Null, both of Carroll county, Md.

On the 3d inst., by the Rev. Mr. Scheurer, Jonathan Selfert, of York county, to Miss Henrietta Sholl, of Adams county.

In Greencastle, on the 30th ult., by the Rev. Mr. Holland, Sterrett McKnight, of Adams county, to Miss Mary Ann Welsh, of the vicinity of Waynesboro, Franklin county.
On the 29th ult., at Conowago Chapel, by the Rev. Mr. Cotton, David A. Link, of Oxford township, to Miss Eliza Kuhn, of Mountpleasant township.

The President of the United States, accompanied by Secretaries Conrad and Stuart, is now on a visit to the valley of Virginia and has been received everywhere with true Virginia hospitality.

Several young ladies of Waynesboro appeared in the streets of that village a few evenings since, dressed in the bloomer costume, but were pursued by several young men and grossly insulted. The editor of the Record appears to have "his back up" at these young men for their mean conduct.

Died: On Tuesday, Mrs. Mary Catharine, wife of J. Lawrence Schick, of this place, aged 26 years.
On the 6th inst., after a short illness, Mrs. Eliza Wolf, wife of H. Gustavus Wolf, and daughter of Wm. Gillespie, Sen., of this borough, aged 38 years.

Farmers all unite in saying that the prospect for a good corn crop was never better at this season of the year.

Chas. M. Troxell, of Emmitsburg, has been appointed a U.S. Internal Revenue store keeper.

The funeral of Commissioner Nunemaker on Saturday was one of the largest ever held in this county. His remains were interred in the burial ground near Fairfield.

Cashtown Picnic: The eleventh annual picnic at the Cashtown Springs was held on Saturday. It was a complete success in every respect. The attendance was unusually large, all portions of the county being represented, with some visitors from Franklin county. We estimated the number on the grounds at from twelve to fifteen hundred. The managers deserve credit for the good order preserved, and are entitled to the thanks of those present, for a pleasant day in the woods. The dancing floor is large and commodious, and was well filled during the entire day with trippers of the light fantastic toe, and those who could not or would not dance, amused themselves with games, etc. The Cashtown and Gettysburg bands added to the enjoyment by performing their best selections. The festivities kept up until 8 o'clock in the evening and everyone went home having a good time.

On Thursday Baltzer Newport was delivering bread through town as usual. He went into Mr. Cook's grocery for a few minutes, leaving his little son in the wagon. The horse ran off, down the street, to the York bridge where he was caught. The little boy was tossed about among the boxes and barrels in the wagon, breaking one of his legs in two places. Several months ago the same boy had three fingers cut off in some machinery in the bakery.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

THE POWER OF PURPOSE
That person is lucky who has self-endowed himself with a living, every-day, continual purpose. Life takes upon itself a definite cast, and that person stands out individually strong, and an inspiration to all who come in contact with him.
One of the most beautiful statements, as to the purpose of life, is summed up simply in those few words by Michael Fairless in her immortal little book, "The Roadmender." Said she: (she wrote under a man's name) "After all, what do we ask of life, here or indeed hereafter, but leave to serve, to live, to commune with our fellowmen and with ourselves; and from the lap of earth to look up into the face of God?"
Over and over again I have read those stirring lines and have hoped with all my heart that I might make that purpose the one of my life, and I offer it to you who read this Talk. The happy, hopeful, golden plan of life is all embodied in those sincere lines of Michael Fairless. No one could possibly be looked upon as anything but a success who followed out this plan.

When we know that we are on the right road we look forward to the arrival at our destination. It's that way when we have a purpose in life. Even though we have setbacks, temporary failures, discouragements and everything looks dark, with a set purpose we know that all will clear in time, and so we face what comes, be it good or ill, and we plough through with faith! Every one who has ever achieved anything worth while has done so by keeping in mind the one big purpose on which one's heart has been set. No one can quite measure the power behind an ever increasing purpose. It has proved the one secret to useful achievement in endless cases in all walks of life.

I like the sound of that word "increasing." An increasing purpose is evidence of growth, and that is what a purpose does—it keeps enriching and enlarging one's entire character, and fuels one's happiness and peace of mind.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Gratitude."

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST
THE FAMILY PICNIC
The women-folk had planned for all that picnicers require. One set the table 'neath the trees; another made the fire. Upon a bench the grandfolks sat and chatted, since they knew Their daughters wanted them to rest: "Without a thing to do," Glad as it was when I was young, forever may it stay. God grant that there will always be the family picnic day.

I see them gathered in the park as I go driving by—
The fathers batting balls to boys; the women cutting pie.
I see the curling wood fire smoke; the children's shouts I hear, And know that happiness is there, untouched by hate or fear. "One blessed joy of freedom that," unto myself I say, God grant that there will always be the family picnic day.

Accident: On Monday afternoon as Alexander Benschhof, of Fairfield, was starting home from Gettysburg, driving a two-horse team, by some means the wagon was upset at the lower end of Chambersburg street, throwing both wagon and occupant over the bank where the road forks. Mr. Benschhof was badly cut and bruised about the head, and was carried insensible to the residence of Dr. Warren. Dr. Tate was called in and dressed the injuries.

An effort is being made to organize a military company in this place. We wish it success. Gettysburg should have a first-class company and it has the material to form one. Before the war we had several good military organizations and we see no good reason why we should not have one now.

Moses Hartman, Esq., of Mountjoy township, had a serious paralytic attack.

Major Upset In Bridge Tourney

Washington, Aug. 6 (AP) — In a major upset last night the defending champions lost in the quarter-final round of the master team-of-four knockout bridge championship in the National Contract Bridge tourney being played here.

John Crawford, Philadelphia, and George Rapee, Howard Schenken and Sam Stayman, all of New York, were beaten out by a mere 30 points by Ambrose Casner, New York; Allen Harvey, Louisville; Frank Weisbach and Charles Hall, both of Cincinnati.

A scoring error kept the issue in doubt long after play stopped. The 100 point scoring error, however, was offset when it was discovered the winners had failed to get credit for 100 honors early in the match.

The winners will meet Dr. Kalman Apfel, Francis Begley, Louis Kelner, Robert Ables and Jules Tilles, a five-man combination from New York.

SEEK TO AVERT
BORDER CLASH

New Delhi, India, Aug. 6 (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru has declared Indian troops are held 20 miles back of the Pakistan border to avoid trivial incidents that might lead to all-out war. He said his government has evidence that Pakistan planned to launch aggressive action into the disputed princely state of Kashmir.

Nehru's statement was contained in a strongly-worded note to Pakistani Premier Liaquat Ali Khan, who has charged that Indian troops at his country's borders pose a threat of war.

The Nehru note, which was dispatched Saturday, said Indian forces were not ordered toward the Indian-Pakistan frontier until after "we had evidence Pakistan was preparing for aggressive action."

He charged that Pakistan had started moving a brigade toward the Kashmir border, threatening the city of Poonch on June 28. On learning this, the Indian leader said his country's troops were ordered to move to the border as a defensive countermeasure.

Nehru warned that an attack on Kashmir—the little Himalayan state over which the two countries have been wrangling since 1947—"is an attack on Indian territory, which will have to be met fully if it takes place." Troops of both countries occupy the state under a U.N.-sponsored truce.

DUFF PREPARED FOR KNOCK-DOWN
POLITICAL BOUT

Harrisburg, Aug. 6 (AP) — U.S. Senator James H. Duff says the Grundy faction of the Republican party in Pennsylvania can have "another knockdown and drag out fight" over delegates to the 1952 GOP convention if they want it.

Duff issued the challenge in Washington over the week-end, in reply to an interview assertion by G. Mason Owlett, GOP national committeeman that Duff "will have pretty great difficulty in controlling" the Keystone state's delegation to the convention.

Owlett, a leader of the GOP faction centering around former U.S. Sen. Joseph R. Grundy, said later in a statement that he was referring to the chairmanship of the delegation, a post which usually goes to the governor of the state.

"Silly Statement"
Duff, who won the senatorship in the general election last year after defeating the Grundy group in the 1950 primary, said in his statement: "The Owlett statement is silly. He is one of those people who just has to keep talking. Unfortunately, he has the wretched habit of opening his mouth and going away and leaving it."

"If what Owlett said means that he demands another knock down and drag out fight within the Republican party next year, as he had last year when he got a terrific beating twice, both in the primary and the general election, that will receive due attention at the proper time."

Duff said that with the General Assembly still in session and with judges all over the state to be elected in November, for Owlett "to go into this silly routine is merely another evidence of how inept and stupid and ridiculous he is as a politician."

Duff for Ike
Owlett, informed of Duff's statement, said at Wellsboro: "I have no desire to stoop to the intemperate level of the Duff statement and therefore have no comment to make at this time."

Duff favors Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for the Republican presidential nomination. Owlett said the Grundy group "has made no pre-convention commitments."

Cleveland, Aug. 6 (AP)—Half of the rubber industry's big four have come to terms with the CIO United Rubber Workers on a 1951 wage increase.

Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. agreed here last night to grant the union a 13-cent-an-hour general increase, retroactive to last Monday. The raise goes to some 23,000 workers in eight cities and will bring the overall average pay to about $2 an hour.

Half Grown Vegetables
Excel In Table Quality

An important part of the home garden yield is in immature vegetables, which a market grower could not use, but which are the most delicious the home gardener serves.

In the case of root crops, these immature vegetables will be the thinnings and with beets and carrots especially, if the seed has been sown thinly to begin with, thinning can be delayed until the plants are large enough to begin using.

When beet roots begin to thicken, and carrots are as large as a finger, pull up and serve the excess plants, cooking the beets with their nutritious tops. In soil which grows good carrots, the plants may be left to mature spaced close enough to touch. Beets need more room as they grow larger, but thinning can be gradual.

DRYING GREEN SNAP BEANS
Dehydration (drying) of fruits and vegetables advanced rapidly during World War II, both in quantities of foods treated by this method and in simplicity and effectiveness of methods employed. Unfortunately housewives have not adopted the practice as widely as its merits justify. Here we desire to discuss home drying of snap beans.
Until five or six years ago state and federal home economics authorities advised housewives against drying green beans. "Store only by canning" was their advice, as observed in Farmers' Bulletin 984. But research and necessities during the late war gave added impetus to home dehydration with the result that information about drying snap beans brought to light the fact that

WISE WATERING
GIVES GROWTH

Gardens cannot grow without water. When dry weather is accompanied by high temperatures careful watering practice may save you lots of trouble, and loss.

First the quantity of water is important. Gardens need at least one inch of water each week; and if this does not fall in rain, it must be applied from a hose. Do not apply it in daily shallow doses, but soak the ground six inches deep at each application.

Next comes the time to water. The best time is early morning, next during the day when the sun is shining and the least favorable time is in the evening. If necessary to water during the evening, do not wet the leaves of the plants, since they will remain damp all night and this will encourage moulds and fungi. Where there is a humid climate, and homes have too much shade, both encourage plant diseases, by keeping leaves damp. Sun-shine is the best preventive, dry leaves the next, and the last resort is a fungicide.

Water In Morning
Lawns should be watered in the morning, or while the sun is shining, and never sprinkled with a hand nozzle, because the holder tires before the lawn gets enough. There are many inexpensive sprinklers which operate with little attention and spread water evenly. Let them stay long enough in one place to wet the soil several inches deep.

For vegetable gardens it is especially important not to wet the leaves of lettuce, chard, and other leaf crops. It is better to keep water off all vegetable leaves, except when the sun will dry them quickly. Some method of flowing water directly on the soil without washing out miniature gullies is required. One of the best is a canvas hose which leaks, and serves the purpose of an irrigation ditch. If possible get one the exact length of your garden row, so it can be lifted to another spot when one area has been thoroughly soaked.

Special Nozzles
For bushy flowers there are special tubes and nozzles which will spread the water near the roots without wetting the leaves. Many prefer to use a piece of wood on which water is allowed to flow directly from the hose, without a nozzle. This is an effective spreader. While leaves should not be allowed to remain damp long, most plants enjoy a morning shower bath, on a day when they will dry quickly. Evergreens need frequent washing, and this discouraged insects, spider, in particular.

Don't forget the evergreens and shrubs in your watering schedule. Newly planted specimens need regular watering during their first year, when their root systems are limited and must get food and water for the plant within a small area. Young plants which succumb during their first year usually suffer from insufficient water.

HEARD SUNDAY

The Rev. Theodore Woodrow Boltz, pastor of the Evangelical and Reformed church in New Brunswick, N. J., and pastor of Redeemer's Reformed church from 1942 to 1946, was the guest minister at Redeemer's church Sunday morning. He used as his sermon subject, "It Is Easy To Be A Christian," based on the text from Matthew, "For my yoke is easy and my burden is light." Lewis Gobrecht, Hanover, offered a vocal selection, and was accompanied by his sister, Miss Shirley Gobrecht, church organist. The service was well attended. Albert M. Stock, Littlestown, was guest teacher in the Sunday school in the adult department. Next Sunday, the Rev. Loy Gobrecht, superintendent of the Reformed Church Home for the Aged in Hagerstown, will be the guest minister. Mrs. Robert L. Scholl, Perryville, Md., will teach the Sunday school lesson.

On Sunday morning, the Rev. Edward H. Hamme, pastor at St. James Evangelical and Reformed church, announced that on Sunday, August 12, there will be no Sunday school session or worship service. The following Sunday, August 19, the regular services will be held.

Maynard S. Barnhart, Jr., Littlestown, a senior at the Lutheran Theological seminary, Gettysburg, delivered the sermon at the largely attended worship service at St. Paul's Lutheran church on Sunday morning. Arthur E. Bair, a teacher in the adult department of the Sunday school, taught the entire Primary department. On Sunday, August 12, the guest preacher will be Carroll Boyer, also a senior at the Gettysburg seminary. Albert M. Stock will teach the children of the Primary department.

The guest minister for the Sunday morning worship service at St. John's Lutheran church was the Rev. Charles E. Held, pastor of Mt. Joy Lutheran church, near Barlow. Sunday, August 12, the Rev. Snyder Allemen, pastor of the Upper Frankford charge, Newville, will deliver the sermon, in the absence of the pastor, the Rev. Kenneth D. James, who is taking his annual vacation.

They especially wish to thank the players on the Has-Beens team in the game, which was staged to raise additional funds for the purchase of new uniforms for the Littlestown high school band; the Littlestown town team; the Littlestown high school band, personnel and director, Charles E. Tressler; umpires Code Bevenour and Paul Sponseller, who donated their services; the following business places for furnishing cars and prizes for the game: Ralph A. White, Pontiac Sales and Service; Village Chevrolet, Inc.; Basehoar's Garage, Ford Sales and Service; the Littlestown Esso Servicenter; Bankert's Restaurant; Higinbotham's Jewelry; the Record Shop; W. H. Dern and Marvin's Cut Rate store. They wish also to thank those who helped to sell tickets for the game and to those who purchased them. The game was sponsored by the Littlestown Chamber of Commerce to raise funds to add to the fund initiated by the Woman's Community club of Littlestown and vicinity, last fall, to purchase new uniforms for the high school band. The game was the Chamber's response to the appeal that all organizations sponsor some project to help. The present amount in the fund is $1,185.87. The Chamber reports that they will have a check for approximately $190 to add to this amount.

Spectator Killed
At Stock Car Race

Selinsgrove, Pa., Aug. 6 (AP) — A spectator at the stock car races at Selinsgrove raceway was killed yesterday as he tried to aid a driver who had crashed through the fence.

The victim, Philip Alfred Radl, 40, of nearby Millmont R. 1, was standing some 100 feet from the track when the car of Harland Fisher, 28, of Millville, went through the boards and turned over.

Radl rushed to Fisher's assistance. Investigators said that at just that time, a second car, driven by Ed Helfrick, Mount Carmel, smashed through the fence and struck Radl, crushing his skull.

State police said Helfrick told them he had been hit by an unidentified racer and lost control.

Coroner Reuben D. Shaffer of Snyder county ruled the death accidental and said no inquest would be held.

8 Die In Train
Wreck In England

Ford Junction, Eng., Aug. 6 (AP) — At least eight persons were killed and more than 50 injured in a holiday train crash here yesterday.

The electric locomotive of a south-bound train smashed into the rear of another electric train which was standing in the station of this hamlet 50 miles southwest of London.

The group last week announced plans for an extended season through Labor Day, September 3. The current production plays Tuesday through Saturday evenings at 8:30 p.m. with a Wednesday matinee at 2:15 p.m.

Several coaches of the stopped train were telescoped.

The victims were mostly vacationers headed for the seashore to spend the August bank holiday.

ward push of our army, and who hid out in the hills and raided the supply lines.

"Our job was to guard the trucks carrying supplies to the front, particularly through the mountain passes, many of which were one-way, and some as much as 12 miles long. Fortunately, I was never wounded. Bullets bit into the ground around us on several occasions, however."

30 Degrees Below Zero

In June Cpl. Anzengruber trained with the M-8's, a nine-ton armed and armored vehicle built like a tank but with tires instead of treads. He later became corps commander of one of these vehicles, and was located at Ulsong with a platoon.

Korea is hot in summer and cold in winter, according to Cpl. Anzengruber. Last winter the mercury dropped to 30 degrees below zero on many occasions, he says. In summer it is so dusty that army vehicles drive with the lights on in daylight hours to see through the dust haze.

"We handled a lot of prisoners. Many of the Chinese Reds wanted to be captured. Sometimes we couldn't get rid of them. Some were only boys, apparently no more than 12 years old. One or two GI's could handle 200 of them."

North Koreans Brutal

The North Koreans were different.

"The Chinese tried to treat GI prisoners well, but the North Koreans would just as soon kill as not. We found our men bayoneted, shot and their eyes gouged out."

Cpl. Anzengruber says that the helicopters are saving thousands of American lives in Korea.

"They drop down right at the front lines, pick up wounded soldiers and fly them back. When a soldier gets shot in the front lines, the helicopters can have him back and on the operating table in half an hour. They place the wounded in baskets attached to either side of the helicopters and land them right in front of the operating tent or building."

Many Children Homeless

Thousands of South Korean children are homeless and separated from their parents because of the war, Anzengruber says. When he landed in Pusan in December a year ago, he saw children, many of them hardly more than babies, with almost no clothing in the intense cold, wandering around begging food.

He was high in his praise not only of the medical corps but of the engineers. "They are doing a wonderful job in rebuilding roads and bridges," he says. "Nothing stops them. They move mountains to build highways in place of the 'cow-paths' of Korea."

For Cpl. Anzengruber, who is married and has two children, separation Tuesday does not mean discharge from the army. "I still have another year to go in the enlisted reserve, and will be subject to call again. I hope they don't, however."

Official surveys show that Blue Sunoco has a "higher specific gravity" (weighs more) than practically all premium-priced gasolines. And, as automotive engineers know... this extra weight means extra energy... more mileage. Careful road tests showed that, due to this extra weight and energy, the mileage from high-test Blue Sunoco was unsurpassed by any premium-priced gasolines.

2¢ SAVING PER GALLON

High-test Blue Sunoco sells at regular gas price, which is usually 2 cents a gallon below premium-priced gasolines. In spite of its low price, Blue Sunoco gives you more value because of its outstanding balance of such qualities as anti-rust, quick-starting, anti-stalling, clean burning, long mileage and high-test action.

SCIENTIST USES SNAKE VENOM AS SUICIDE MEANS

Ann Arbor, Mich., Aug. 6 (P)—A world famous scientist, threatened with prosecution for mishandling University of Michigan funds, killed himself with a hypodermic dose of snake venom and morphine late on Friday.

Three hours before his suicide, scholar, handsome Dr. Malcolm H. Soule, a bacteriologist, was told by university regents he had been fired and would be prosecuted.

The Washtenaw county prosecutor's office called a conference later to decide whether to go on with an inquiry into the way the scientist handled department of bacteriology funds. Dr. Soule, 54, had been chairman of the department since 1935.

Made Restitution
The regents told Dr. Soule at 3 p.m. they would not accept his resignation submitted last July 13. The prosecutor's office was asked at 4:30 p.m. to begin an investigation.

About 6 p.m. Dr. Soule's wife, Alma, found him dying in the basement of their home. He had given himself the fatal injection. In virtually his last conscious breath he told his wife it was useless to call for help.

Chief Assistant Prosecutor Edmund De Vine pointed out the suicide precluded any prosecution. He added it was to be decided whether to proceed with an official investigation of department funds.

On the record, apparently only $487.05 was involved. The regents said Dr. Soule had made full restitution. They declined to say how the funds were mishandled or how the incident came to light. Immediately after announcement of his dismissal, Dr. Soule had declined to make any comment to newsmen.

O'Dwyer Asks Full Facts On "Transfer"

Mexico City, Aug. 6 (P)—Ambassador William O'Dwyer demanded Friday that the Senate crime investigating committee expose "the forces" which linked his name to a million-dollar fund transfer.

The committee issued a statement in Washington earlier on Friday saying it was satisfied with a State Department explanation that the transfer was a routine payment by Mexico to the United States on its lend-lease account. The committee said it had not spread the original reports.

The reports, first published by the New York Daily News, said the committee was investigating a million-dollar letter of credit "reportedly transferred from Mexico to a Manhattan bank for the account of Ambassador O'Dwyer," shortly before the committee opened televised hearings in New York last March.

The State Department said that what happened was that the Mexican government made out a million-dollar bank draft to O'Dwyer, in his capacity as American ambassador, for a payment on its lend-lease account.

Letter to the Editor

Chautauqua, N. Y.
P. O. Box 578
July 31, 1951

Dear Sir:
There is an important item of news here that is of interest to Gettysburgians. Rev. Wallace E. Fisher, pastor of Christ Lutheran church, was chaplain here last week. He came here under circumstances of difficulty. He substituted for Dr. Blackwelder, of Washington, D. C., who is the most loved chaplain who comes to Chautauqua, and he followed three men each of whom have delivered the Yale lectures for preaching. Dr. Phillips of Cleveland, Dr. Moor of Cleveland, and Dr. Butttrick of New York. Each one was well received. Came Rev. Mr. Fisher July 22 when he preached to a packed auditorium, upwards of 7,000 in a pouring rain. The week day audiences are always much smaller. On Monday he had about 500 and on Friday he closed his week with close to a thousand. Comparative comments such as this were common: "Fisher's messages were attractive because they were surcharged with the spirit of Evangelism." For the power of his impact he compared favorably with Dr. Blackwelder.

This is our fourth season here and we are much inspired with Rev. Mr. Fisher's work.

Cordially,
C. F. Sanders.

SNOW BEARS RESCUE CALL

Juneau, Alaska, Aug. 6 (P)—The query—"Norseman?"—tramped out in the snow on an Alaskan mountain led to the rescue yesterday of three explorers marooned by the disappearance of their expedition's plane. The message referred to a Norseman plane with three aboard which vanished July 27.

Rescued from Mt. Hubbard in the Alaska panhandle by a ski-wheel equipped C-47 of the air force were Walter A. Wood of Far Hills, N. J., his son, Peter, 20, and Robert Bates, believed from Boston. Wood was in charge of ice studies for the Arctic Institute. Lost aboard the Norseman were explorer Maurice King, Wood's wife and their daughter, Valerie.

The C-47, which rescued the three from the 12,064-foot mountain, is equipped with jato (jet-assisted-takeoff) units. It has been flying off the Juneau ice cap where explorers conduct investigations of glaciers.

The plane is one of many planes which have been searching for the Norseman and for a Korean airlift plane which vanished nearby July 21 with 38 persons aboard.

LEGIONNAIRES MEET TUESDAY

Pittsburgh, Aug. 6 (P)—The Steel City cheerfully resigned itself today to being taken over by 7,500 American Legionnaires when the veterans open their 33rd annual state convention tomorrow.

The vanguard of delegates and auxiliary members poured into a Golden Triangle decked out in flags and bunting for the five-day convalesce.

Daily business sessions will be held in the Soldiers' and Sailors' Memorial hall in Oakland. The Ladies' auxiliary will set up headquarters in a downtown hotel.

Opening event is an "a to z" dinner tomorrow night, honoring Department Chateau President Mrs. Emily Ferguson. Convention committees will get to work Wednesday.

The first business session is Wednesday night when the Legion and auxiliary will hold a joint meeting to hear an address by Governor John S. Fine of Pennsylvania.

State Commander Joseph S. McCracken will give his report Thursday and delegates will hear an address by Dean Clarence Manion of Notre Dame university. A military ball and the "40 and 8" parade will spark Thursday night's events.

Friday's session will hear addresses by General Mark W. Clark, commander of the Army's field forces, and U. S. Senator Edward Martin (R-Pa.).

Legion and auxiliary will elect new officers Friday, with the exception of state commander. He will be chosen Saturday. The traditional parade will be held Saturday morning.

The Hebrides Islands were ruled by Norway until 1266.

Reading, Pa., Aug. 6 (P)—The 600-acre Reading Municipal airport will be renamed the Gen. Carl A. Spaatz airfield in elaborate ceremonies next Sunday. The retired general, a native of near Boyertown, will come here to participate, as will Thomas K. Finletter, secretary of the air force, and Gov. John S. Fine. More than 350 military and civilian planes are expected. "Hot rod" pilots will compete for $3,400 in prizes in the annual Rebat Midget race.

DECISION NEAR ON INCOME TAX IN STATE SENATE

Harrisburg, Aug. 6 (AP)—Gov. John S. Fine's proposed income tax which has made the current Legislature session the longest since 1779 today faced a new test before a Senate committee.

The one half of one per cent income levy was headed toward either death in the hands of the Senate finance committee or approval and a new struggle for life in a vote on the Senate floor.

Committee Chairman T. Newell Wood (R-Luzerne) began rounding up other members for committee meeting as soon as they reached town for the week's session. "If all members agree, we'll hold a meeting today or tonight," Wood told a reporter. "If that cannot be arranged, a meeting will be held tomorrow."

Bill Bottled Up "For a meeting like this," he added, "all 17 members must be present—or it would not mean anything."

The tax bill, approved by the House, has been checked in the Senate for months due to the opposition of 11 Republican senators. Administration forces have kept the bill bottled up in committee since May rather than try to bring it to the floor, where the 11 GOP rebels, plus 20 Democratic votes, would kill it.

As legislators gathered here today there was a strong possibility that

SEE VINSON AS POSSIBILITY IN FIELD FOR '52

Washington, Aug. 6 (AP)—New talk of Chief Justice Fred Vinson as a possible presidential candidate has cropped up among Capitol Hill Democrats.

Vinson, as a Supreme Court justice, isn't in a position to say anything one way or the other, but some who profess to be his friends say the chief justice could be persuaded to leave the court and make the race even if Democratic chances don't look too good next year.

The chief justice is regarded as one of those who might be picked by President Truman to take his place as the nominee if Mr. Truman decides he won't run again.

On Conservative Side A Kentuckian and a former member of Congress, Vinson would be calculated to cool the southern revolt that threatens to be more serious next year than it was in 1948 when President Truman lost four states to the States Rights ticket.

Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn.) said yesterday at Portland, Ore., that he thought Mr. Truman could get the Democratic nomination and be elected in 1952 if he wanted the job. But, Kefauver said, he was not campaigning for Mr. Truman.

While Vinson is looked upon as something of a conservative, he probably would be acceptable to most of the "Fair Deal" wing of the party because of his record of support for the Truman domestic and foreign policies.

Truman Keeps 'Em Guessing Mr. Truman continues to keep his best friends guessing about what he intends to do.

As an example, his cryptic statements about Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower last week have been subject to about as many interpretations as there are politicians to talk about them.

Mr. Truman told a White House news conference he doesn't believe Eisenhower's duties will interfere with any interest Eisenhower may have in political matters in 1952. The general has been mentioned as a possible candidate for both the Republican and Democratic nominations.

To many this presidential statement seemed to clear the road for Eisenhower backers to boost their man's chances.

On the other hand, Mr. Truman said he is sure Eisenhower will place duty to his country ahead of everything else and that he hopes the general will continue the magnificent job he is doing in Europe as long as necessary.

This seemed to indicate to some there is doubt in the presidential mind that the European defense task can be completed in time for a 1952 political campaign.

Senator Lodge (R-Mass.) joined the Eisenhower-for-President ranks last night. Asked during a TV interview (NBC) whether Republican supporters could get the general as their party nominee, Lodge replied: "Yes, I'm optimistic."

The measure might reach the floor of the Senate despite the fact that only 7 of the 17 finance committee members favored it. This was because five Democratic members—although opposed to the tax—might vote to bring the bill out just so that a final vote on the Senate floor could be recorded.

See Democratic Support Their five votes, added to the seven GOP proponents of the bill would mean a 12 to 5 vote for approval. Chairman Wood declared that if the Democrats vote for the bill "then we'll bring it out."

"I, for one, definitely will vote for the measure," Wood said, and added that Sen. M. Harvey Taylor (R-Dauphin), an ex-officio member of the committee as Senate president pro tempore, also had signified his intention of voting for a report-out. "I'm sure this will be agreeable to Governor Fine also," Wood said.

An indication that Democratic committee members would vote for reporting out the bill came from Sen. John H. Dent (D-Westmoreland), their Senate floor leader. "If the administration persists in high pressing the Senate finance committee," he said, "there is one way to deal—bring the bill out for a vote on the floor."

Heading other legislation coming up this week is a Senate-passed bill to increase the legal weight limit of commonly-used trucks in Pennsylvania from 45,000 to 60,000. The bill is in a position for a vote in the House.

PRISON TERM THREATS USED, ASSERT CADETS

West Point, N. Y., Aug. 6 (AP) — Several cadets say they admitted cheating at examinations after military academy officials threatened them with loss of citizenship, perjury citations and prison terms.

A "stool picon" was used to obtain information on the alleged cribbing say a number of the cadets facing dismissal from West Point for violating the school's honor system.

These allegations, immediately denied by an academy spokesman, were made yesterday as a special screening board started final examination of each cadet's case.

Ninety cadets were accused Friday of classroom cheating. Their identities were withheld, but slowly they and their parents were beginning to speak up in bitter criticism of the army's action.

Report 44 Players Involved

In Washington, senators and congressmen debated the need for an investigation into the dismissals and discussed the possibility of de-emphasizing sports, particularly football, at the academy.

There were reports that 44 players on the vaunted Army football team were involved in the scandal. The captain-elect of the 1951 team, Harold J. Loehlein, told newsmen yesterday that he was one of those dismissed.

Loehlein, who also was president-elect of the senior class, said that "many cadets involved have not yet admitted their guilt." The Kimball, Minn., cadet added:

"We are not culprits, not incompetents, and have not corrupted the nation's morals. We are 90 individuals apparently unfit for the academy, although fit for the army itself."

This latter statement referred to the fact that dismissed cadets will be eligible for the draft.

Gave Exam Questions

A trio of accused cadets, whose names were withheld, met with three newsmen in a private room. They denied that there had been classroom cheating, and explained:

"The cribbing consisted in telling a friend what the examination questions were. The corps is split into sections for exams, with one section taking the exam on Monday, one on Tuesday, and so on."

Such exchanges of information, they emphasized, were entirely on a basis of friendship, with no other considerations.

Football Coach Col. Earl Blaik, the three cadets said, had heard of the cribbing investigation and told the squad to "tell the board" if any "of you boys have committed a wrong."

As a result, the trio said, many football players confessed and were placed on the dismissal list.

Report Blaik Resigning

Blaik himself has been rumored planning to resign from the Point's coaching staff, but so far he has refused to comment on the situation.

The three cadets said that when they first came before the special board "they threatened us with charges of perjury and possible imprisonment in Fort Leavenworth. They also threatened that movies would be shown depicting cadets exchanging information."

One of the three said the board

Nabbed On Dope Charge

Irving (Waxy Gordon) Wexler, 62, beer baron of prohibition days, stands outside the Federal Narcotics office in New York early August 3, after his arrest on narcotics charges. He was accused of being "the source for the west coast" of dope arriving here on ships, and was held in $250,000 bail.

obtained much of its information from a hospitalized cadet, called from his bed for three straight days. The cadet spokesman continued to newsmen:

"When they were through (with the hospitalized cadet), a member of the board said, 'sorry we had to use coercion.' When they realized what that sounded like, they said: 'What we meant to say was that we're sorry it took so long.'"

Denies Coercion

Col. James B. Lee, West Point public information officer, denied that coercion, or threats were used in obtaining confessions. He said each cadet was advised of his legal rights before he entered the hearing room.

Maj. Gen. Frederick A. Irving, academy superintendent, said the screening board now in session seeks to give each cadet one last opportunity to submit "anything which the cadet may have by way of explanation, mitigation or extenuation."

Ridgway's headquarters outlined the Allied demand Monday in a statement issued "to set at rest speculation."

The statement nullified a press release issued by the Civil Information and Education Division of Supreme Allied Headquarters Saturday. The release said the Allies were demanding a buffer zone somewhere between the present battle lines and the Yalu river on the Manchurian border.

May Reject Apology

Joy was accompanied to Tokyo by Maj. Gen. L. C. Craigie, Maj. Gen. H. I. Hodes, and Rear Adm. Arleigh Burke. Maj. Gen. Falk Sun Yup, South Korean representative on the five-man Allied team, presumably stayed behind in Korea.

The group left the U. N. Advance Headquarters shortly after noon in helicopters. From Seoul they flew to Tokyo in a converted B-17.

AP Correspondent Robert B. Tuckman at the advance base said the opinion there was that the Tokyo conference would consider whether the Red reply was acceptable, or whether Ridgway should demand iron-clad guarantees that Kaesong's neutrality would not be violated.

There was some speculation Ridgway may have seized upon the incident to bring to a head the deadlock over where the buffer zone should be established.

Called "Mistake"

Joy himself did not formally protest the troop incident at Saturday's meeting. He merely noted it for the record.

Peiping radio, propaganda mouthpiece for the Red Chinese government, explained that the soldiers were Communist guards on their way to a "discussion meeting."

It admitted the soldiers had carried "improper weapon," and said they entered the conference area "by mistake."

The broadcast said Lt. Gen. Nam Il, chief Communist delegate at Kaesong, ordered a full report on the incident. He then ordered a liaison officer to notify the U. N. truce team strict orders had been issued to guarantee that such incidents would not be repeated.
